

Two Top International Business Speakers come to Dublin on 16th February 2006

The Ireland Chapter of the Professional Speakers Association invites you to share a memorable evening with Jim and Naomi Rhode, the cream of international business speakers, at 6.30pm on Thursday 16th February 2006 at the Guinness Storehouse.

“Making Business Sense out of the Consulting, Coaching, and Speaking Professions”

You'll leave this session with a notebook full of dos and don'ts and great ideas!

Jim Rhode has developed and presented hundreds of seminars and workshops on practice administration and professional marketing for over three decades. His extensive business experience includes team building, financial analysis, operation streamlining and long-range planning. He is a member of the Society for Advancement of Management and past-president of the US-based National Speakers Association.

“Alpha & Omega - Synergistic Openings and Closings for Successful Presentations”

A member of the Speakers Hall of Fame®, a graduate and alumni of the year of the University of Minnesota, Naomi Rhode has spoken before thousands of professionals, corporations and non-profit organizations, sharing her expertise on leadership, team building, life balance and interpersonal relationships. She is a member of Speaker's Roundtable, a recipient of the prestigious Cavett Award and past president of our US counterpart – the National Speakers Association. She is currently President of the International Federation for Professional Speakers.

Jim and Naomi Rhode have been pioneers in the field of preventative dentistry for over three decades. They are co-founders of SmartPractice® and their commitment to sharing what they have learned about business, practice management and successful relationships has led to great demand for their services as speakers, seminar leaders, coaches and mentors. We are delighted to welcome them to Dublin. This is an evening not to be missed.
